AQUANIMA
COOKIE POLICY

1. Responsible entity

By way of this notice, IBÉRICA DE COMPRAS CORPORATIVAS, S.L., a Spanish company with registered address at Avda. De Cantabria S/N, Edificio Arrecife, Planta 0, 28660 Boadilla del Monte, Madrid, with Tax ID number B-82797713 and registered in the Mercantile Registry of Madrid volume 15,946, Book 0, Section 8, page M-269630, and owner of this website ("AQUANIMA" or the "Editor", indistinctly), informs the users of the website www.aquanima.com ("the Website" and "the User or the Users") about its Cookie Policy, so that they understand the cookies that will be used while they browse the Website and can consent to their use

2. What are cookies?

Cookies are files that are downloaded and stored on the devices (computer/smartphone/tablet) of users who browse the Internet when they access some websites and applications. They are used to store and retrieve information about the browsing from that device.

Cookies can be installed either directly by the websites visited or by third parties with which the website has some kind of connection. The website uses the cookies to keep track of the user's activity on the site and others connected with it, for example: the location from which it is accessed, the connection time, the device from which it is accessed (fixed or mobile), the operating system and browser used, the most visited websites, the number of clicks and data on the user's browsing habits.

3. Personal data protection

Under certain circumstances, the use of data storage and recovery devices on recipient terminals, such as cookies, may involve processing personal data. The legitimate grounds for this data processing will be the consent provided by the website or app users after receiving clear and comprehensive information on the use of cookies, in particular regarding the purposes of the data processing, in the area of personal data protection.

To this effect, you must remember that this cookie policy (the "cookie policy") is supplemented by the privacy policy for this website or app.

4. Types of cookies used

This Website uses the following types of cookies:

4.1. Technical and strictly necessary cookies

These are cookies inserted by the publisher which are necessary for the website to operate correctly or to provide a given service requested by the user. Personalisation or preferential cookies are considered necessary to allow information to be recorded so that the user can access the service with certain characteristics which may differentiate their experience from that of other users, such as their preferred language or the number of results to show in their searches.

Technical cookies include user interface personalisation cookies, cookies used by the publisher to control data communication and traffic and identify the session, cookies for sharing content on social media, etc.

Pursuant to Art. 22.2 of the Information Society Services and Electronic Commerce Act, users do not have to give their consent for them to be used.

The table below provides more detailed information on this type of cookie:

OWNER	NAME	PURPOSE	DURATION/EXPIRATION PERIOD
Aquanima	SMSN_CNTCT	Improve performance	24 hours
Aquanima	SMSN_CRVT	Improve performance	24 hours
Aquanima	TM_MCHN	Improve performance	1 year
Aquanima	TMP_NF	Improve performance	1 year

4.2 Analytical or Performance Cookies

These cookies may be own or third-party cookies and allow the Publisher to monitor and analyse the behaviour of users when they browse the Website or use its services. Thanks to them, the Publisher can find out which pages are the most or least visited, how visitors browse the site and analyse browsing, allowing it to make improvements based on the analysis of this usage information. The information handled does not allow the user to be uniquely identified.

Among the analytical cookies used on this website are GOOGLE ANALYTICS cookies. GOOGLE ANALYTICS is a web analysis service provided by Google Ireland. Specifically, the use of Google Analytics allows the Publisher to monitor how visitors use the Website, compile reports and help improve the Website.

If you consent to the setting of web analytics or performance cookies on your device, please note that GOOGLE ANALYTICS cookies will be set. The installation of these cookies may involve Google Ireland making international data transfers to the United States, which may, in very isolated and specific cases, involve access to the data by US authorities in the course of investigative and national security work. However, in line with our high standards of privacy compliance, we inform you that between Google Ireland and its subcontractors in the United States, we subscribe to the Standard Contractual Clauses approved by the European Commission on 4 June 2021 as a safeguard mechanism recognised by the GDPR with the aim of preserving the security of data that may be subject to international transfer. We have also adopted additional measures to protect the confidentiality and integrity of personal information.

The table below provides more detailed information on these cookies:

Owner	Name	Purpose	Duration/Expiration period
Google	_ga	Used to distinguish users.	2 years
Google	_gid	Used to distinguish users.	24 hours
Google	_gat	Used to throttle request rate. If you have implemented Google Analytics using Google Tag Manager, this cookie will be called _dc_gtm_<property-id>.	1 minute
Google	AMP_TOKEN	Includes a token that can be used to retrieve a customer ID from the AMP customer ID service. Other possible values indicate disabling, requests in progress, or errors obtained by retrieving an AMP Customer ID service ID.	30 seconds to 1 year
Google	_gac_<property-id>	Includes user-related campaign information. If you've linked your Google Analytics and Google Ads accounts, website conversion tags will read this cookie, unless you disable it	90 days
Google	__utma	Distinguishes between users and sessions. A user is a person who visits the site. A session is the period that the user spends on the site, during which they may visit several pages. The cookie analyses how the site is used in terms of visits and page views by users.	Two years from configuration or last update
Google	__utmt	Used to throttle the request rate. This means limiting the number of analysis events sent to Google.	10 minutes
Google	__utmb	Used to differentiate new sessions/visits from repeat visits. Returning visitors can be identified through the cookie, which new visitors will not have.	30 minutes from configuration or update
Google	__utmc	Used in conjunction with the _utmb cookie to determine whether a user is a new or returning visitor.	End of browser session
Google	__utmz	Stores the source of traffic or campaign that explains how the user got to the site.	Six months from configuration or last update
Google	__utmv	Used to store visitor-level custom variable data. This cookie is created when a developer uses the _setCustomVar method with a customer-level custom variable. It is also used for the deprecated _setVar method. The cookie is updated every time data is sent to Google Analytics.	Two years from configuration or last update

5. What are the legal grounds for the use of cookies?

Except in the case of strictly necessary and technical cookies whose use does not require the user's informed consent, the publisher will place cookies on the user's computer only with the user's prior informed consent. Users may give their consent either by clicking "Accept all cookies" or by consenting to those that they choose in the cookie settings panel displayed by the publisher the first time the user accesses the website or the app.

6. Can you revoke your consent?

Users may revoke their consent regarding cookies and delete installed cookies at any time. To do so, you may:

- Use the content and privacy settings in the browser you are using to browse the website. You may revoke your consent and delete cookies by following these steps, depending on the browser used:
  - Firefox: http://support.mozilla.org/es/home
  - Internet/Explorer: http://support.microsoft.com/ph/807/es-es
  - Safari: http://support.apple.com/kb/HT1677?viewlocale=es_ES
  - Opera: http://help.opera.com/Windows/8.54/es-ES/index.html
  - Chrome: https://support.google.com/chrome/?hl=es

7. Update to the Cookie Policy and contacts

This Cookie Policy may change depending on the cookies used.

The Editor recommends that you review this policy each time you access our website so that you are properly informed about how and why we use cookies and are aware of any changes in the type of data collected.

If you have a question about the Portal's Cookie Policy, or want to revoke the consent previously given, you may contact the Editor at the following address: gestion.gdpr@aquanima.com indicating "Cookie Policy" in the subject line.
